Profile Overview

This profile summarizes data about curriculum use collected during the Spring 2022 Preschool Development Grant Birth through Five (PDG B-5) Workforce Survey. The survey was conducted between April and June 2022, and all early educators participating in the 2021-22 PDG B-5 program year were eligible to complete the survey.

Over 6,600 educators across Virginia, including leaders (directors and principals), teachers (lead teachers, co-teachers, assistant teachers, paraprofessionals, and aides), and family day home owners completed the survey. These responses accounted for...

- 48% of eligible leaders
- 58% of eligible teachers
- 66% of eligible family day home owners

In Ready Region West, we heard from...

- 38% of eligible leaders
- 61% of eligible teachers
- 56% of eligible family day home owners

Educators were asked a variety of questions about their use of curriculum in the survey, including how important it is to them, the type of curriculum they use, their past experiences with training, and their interest in receiving additional training. This profile presents statewide findings on curriculum as well as insights from leaders, teachers, and family day home owners in your individual Ready Region.

The survey asked educators about their race/ethnicity using the same approach as the Virginia Department of Education. Educators could select one or more race/ethnicity groups, including American Indian or Alaskan Native, Asian, Black or African American, Hispanic, Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islander, White, Multiracial, or any other race/ethnicity. In the tables above, we show the percentages for the largest race/ethnicity groups.

Leader and FDH Owner Perspectives on Curriculum

Statewide Findings

The majority of leaders participating in PDG B-5 agreed with the following statement: “A formal curriculum is important for ensuring quality at my site.” Leader perspectives on curriculum varied by sector, however, and family day home owners were less likely to agree that a formal curriculum is important to site quality.

Note: Based on responses from 901 site leaders.

Insights from Ready Region West

Most Ready Region West leaders across sectors also agreed with the statement, “A formal curriculum is important to ensuring quality at my site.”

Note: Based on responses from 105 site leaders in the West Ready Region. Family day home owners are excluded due to a low sample size.

Leader Readiness to Support Teachers with Curriculum

Statewide Findings

When asked how equipped they feel to support their teachers in fully implementing the curriculum, almost all leaders participating in PDG B-5 reported feeling at least somewhat equipped to support their teachers. Head Start leaders were most likely to report feeling “very well equipped.”

Note: Based on responses from 681 leaders.

Insights from Ready Region West

Most Ready Region West leaders also reported feeling at least somewhat equipped to support their teachers in fully implementing the curriculum. In Ready Region West, Head Start and school-based leaders were even more likely than the statewide sample of Head Start and school-based leaders to report feeling “very well equipped.”

Note: Based on responses from 99 leaders in the West Ready Region.

Leader Interest in Curriculum Training

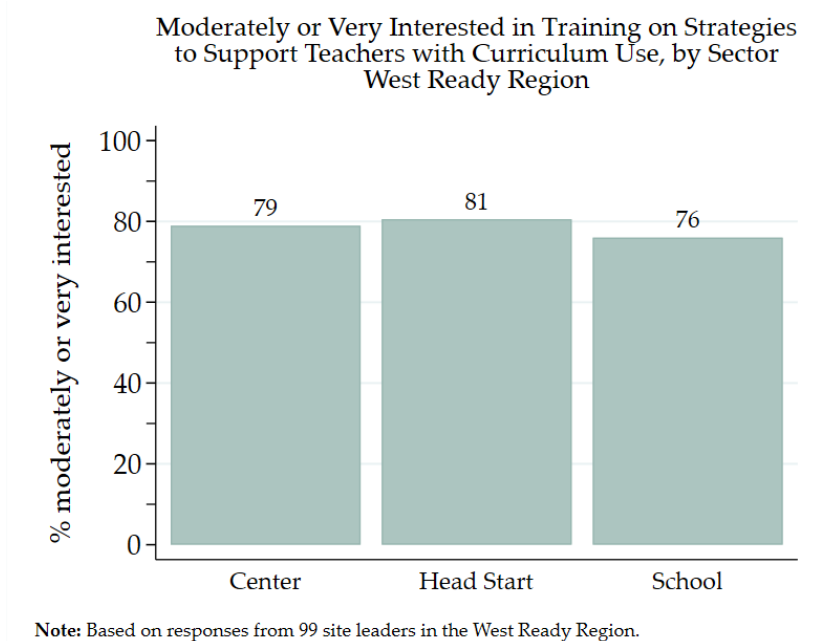

Statewide Findings

Statewide, the majority of leaders participating in PDG B-5 indicated interest in receiving training on strategies to support their teachers with using curriculum. While center-based and Head Start leaders were equally as likely to indicate interest (83%), school-based leaders were less likely to do so (71%).

Insights from Ready Region West

Interest in receiving training on strategies to support teachers with implementing curriculum was also high among Ready Region West leaders, and even more Ready Region West leaders in schools indicated interest than in the statewide sample of leaders (76% vs. 71%).

Teacher and FDH Owner Reports of Type of Curriculum Used

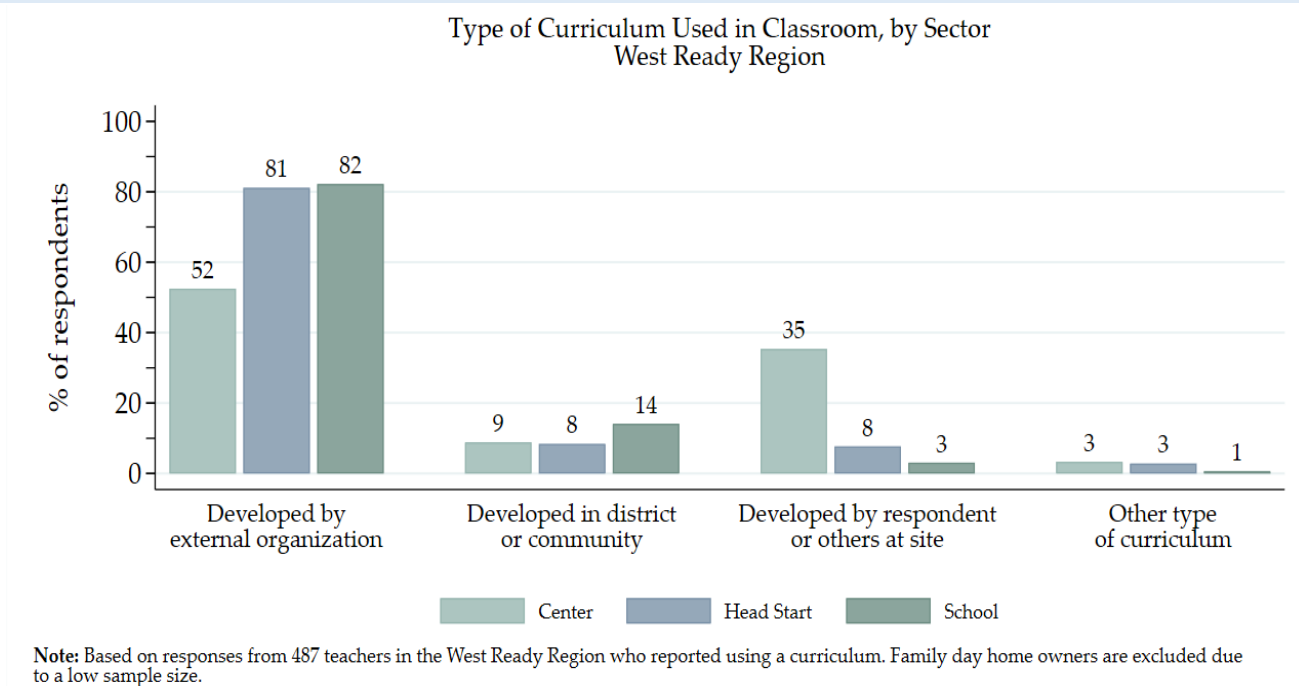

Statewide Findings

Teachers participating in PDG B-5 across Virginia were most likely to report using a curriculum developed by an external organization (e.g., Creative Curriculum, Frog Street). However, around one-third of center-based teachers (35%) and family day home owners (29%) reported using a curriculum developed by themselves or others at their site.

Insights from Ready Region West

Ready Region West teachers were also more likely to report using a curriculum developed by an external organization than other types of curriculum. About a third of Ready Region West center-based teachers also reported using a curriculum developed by themselves or others at their site.

Teacher and FDH Owner Reports of Curriculum Training

Statewide Findings

Of the teachers participating in PDG B-5 who reported using a curriculum, the majority reported receiving training on how to use the curriculum, regardless of sector. Head Start teachers were most likely to report receiving curriculum training.

Insights from Ready Region West

Most Ready Region West teachers in centers, Head Starts, and schools also indicated receiving training on how to use the curriculum.
